

Amaal Rirash

+447949383230 | Rirash_97@hotmail.com

Education

King's College London | BSc chemistry

September 20 – Present

Grade achieved: Upper second-class Honours

Relevant modules: Organic Chemistry, Inorganic Chemistry, Integrated Chemical Laboratory, Physical Chemistry, Computational Chemistry

Mossbourne Academy | A levels

September 18 – June 20

Maths(A), Chemistry(B), Computer Science(C)

Haggerston School | GCSEs

September 13 – June 18

Grades achieved: 9 GCSEs Ranging from 8 -6

Took Further Maths as an additional subject

Work experience

Joe & the Juice-St Pancras station | Shift Manager

June 23 – Present

- Role involved efficiently preparing and serving high quality coffee, sandwich, and juice products, while consistently meeting the company's standard for excellence in product presentation and customer satisfaction.
- Upheld the company's strict cleanliness standards, adhering to hygiene protocols and regularly conducting thorough cleaning routines. This commitment to cleanliness not only contributed to a safe and welcoming environment for customers but also showcased my attention to detail and dedication to quality
- Working closely with a dynamic team, I learned the importance of collaboration and efficiency. Our team excelled in serving a high volume of customers promptly, maintaining a positive atmosphere, and delivering top-notch service. This experience perfected my ability to work harmoniously within a group and adapt to the demands of a fast-paced service industry.

Private walk-in clinic

January 20 – February 20

- Shadowing experienced healthcare professionals specifically Doctors to gain first hand exposure to the daily operations of a private medical clinic.
- Observed and assisted with various medical procedures and patient consultations, while also developing a comprehensive understanding of the best patient care
- Honed my interpersonal and communication skills while interacting with patients and providing empathetic support during their clinical visit. Maintained a high level of professionalism and confidentiality while handling sensitive patient information and adhering to strict ethical standards within the healthcare setting
- Also worked as a receptionist where I played a pivotal role in ensuring efficient and patient-focused operations. I excelled in managing appointments, handling patient inquiries with professionalism, and contributing to the overall positive patient experience while upholding the clinic's reputation for exceptional care

Private tutoring | Math teacher

February 19– June 19

- Creating a unique and efficient schedule for each student in order to ensure academic improvement.
- Accommodated different learning styles for each topic and making an exam based on which topics the student is weak on with resources and notes while under pressure however still maintaining a quality of teaching. Observed an increase in grades for each of my GCSE students.
- Created a strong and unique relationship with each student in order to create a safe space in order to excel by being understanding and showing a good attitude to students.

Skills and Interests

Sports – Football, Basketball

Languages -English (fluent), Somali (Native)

Computer skills/languages– Excel, Word, PowerPoint, SQL (basic level), Python, HTML, CSS